THE 118th EDITION

ATHENIAN

BY THE
CLASS OF 1959

ATHENS AREA Joint High School
Athens, Pennsylvania

FOREWORD

A favorite pastime of the older generations is to reminisce about their school days. They usually have fond memories, and, if they can find anyone to listen to them, they will sit for hours talking.

This year we would like to present the story of an older man and his wife as they go through their trunk of memories. We would like to paint the picture of members of the class of '59 going through their collection of articles having little monetary value, but holding a wealth of memories for them to live over and over again.

We hope that everyone who reads this book will enjoy it and think it well worth the effort put into its production. It is with pleasure and pride we present the Athenian for 1959.

Can you remember wandering past room 218 during the seventh period of any day? If you have, maybe you recall looking in the window and saying to yourself, "Who are these people working so diligently?" The answer is as simple as this; these people who were so greatly engrossed in their work were the members of the Athenian Staff of '59. Every day this group of people retired to room 218 to plan and get this year's Athenian ready for production. This group consisted of thirteen seniors gifted with great abilities for typing, writing, and drawing. These people, under the capable direction of Mrs. Alger, worked and worked and worked to meet each set deadline.

Along with their duties to the ATHENIAN, the members of this year's Athenian Staff were also the reporters for the EVENING TIMES. During activity periods you would bump into them bustling from activity to activity gathering the school news.

To this group, who gave their time and patience, we owe a great deal of credit and thanks.

To Mr. Irving Hazard

The Class of 1959 proudly dedicates this ATHENIAN

DEDICATION

As a stream, arising from an obscure beginning, becomes a river and at length merges with the ocean, so the influence of one person spreads and touches the lives of countless numbers. It is fitting to think of the man to whom we dedicate this volume, Mr. Irving Hazard, as such a stream — one that has deepened and broadened its influence with the passing years.

To attain the status of teacher and then later principal, Mr. Hazard had to overcome many obstacles. When he was about two years of age he contracted infantile paralysis, and when he was ten his father died. He worked during his high school years and graduated from high school at Homer, New York. He worked his way through college and received a Bachelor of Science degree in chemistry from Syracuse University.

Upon graduation, still undecided about his future, he spent about a year in New Mexico, after which he held successful positions with industrial and chemical companies in Maryland, New York, and Washington D.C. Then in September of 1921, Mr. Hazard embarked upon his teaching career, teaching sciences at Athens High School. He became principal of the school in 1934.

During his principalship, Mr. Hazard has witnessed many changes in Athens High School. Two of the most prominent changes have been in the athletics department, the addition of the gymnasium and the new athletic field. Mr. Hazard has always shown an interest in sports in Athens. He attends most of the school games and was, at one time, the faculty manager of athletics.

He also witnessed the building of the auditorium wing. Since his college years, Mr. Hazard has had a deep interest in dramatics. For several years he directed some of the best senior plays presented at Athens. While he was teaching chemistry, he wrote and presented a play which featured the science of chemistry. This play was later published in a national chemistry magazine.

Mr. Hazard regards extra-curricular activities with favor as long as they do not interfere with school work. He himself has many outside activities. These range from building his own boat to playing chess and checkers, to traveling, to reading, and finally to photography.

Besides these hobbies, Mr. Hazard has participated extensively in civic affairs. He has always been a very active member of his church, serving as chairman of the board for some time. Previous to this, he taught a Sunday School class and was active in the youth fellowship. Not only has Mr. Hazard always taken part in all the activities of his church but he has also spent a great deal of time with other community groups. He has been a very successful president of the Spaulding Memorial Library Board for several years. Mr. Hazard is a past president of the Rotary; he has also held offices in the Odd Fellows.

Mr. Hazard will long be remembered in the hearts of the students who have attended and graduated from Athens High School for his understanding of their problems and his respect for them as young adults.

"To live in mankind is far more than to live in a name. To live in mankind, far, far more than to live in a name."

The members of the Athens Area Joint School Board congratulate the graduating class of 1959. This congratulation, like the "quantity of mercy", is twice blessed: it is your success that justifies the action of the board members, who, as the elected representatives of the people of our combined districts, must tax and provide educational facilities. Today, your success is the only reward we seek or get.

Our contact with the student body is through the carefully selected faculty we provide, so it is that you know little of us, but we know much of you. Your immediate needs are the board's responsibility. Your hopes and desires become our challenge for future developments in the school system. Both your ingenuity and your rascality reflect in our annual budget. Though apparently apart, we are closer together at times than either of us realize.

We take no haven in that trite old refrain "When we were your age". Once we lived the same chronological years, but in this rapidly expanding world we never were your age, for yours is a new and remarkable age which time denied us at your stage of development.

You have more facilities than we had and you need them. You have more social, political and intellectual responsibility than we had, and you have accepted it. In short, you are the body and soul of what is to be. We hope we have been good stewards of that portion of your lives allocated to our trust.

We, the members of the board, wish each of you the good fortune and ambition that constitute success. We congratulate you again on using your high school heritage in such a manner that is now a richer gift to bequeath to those who shall follow you in the coming years.

Pres. Athens Area Joint School Board

J. C. Lynch M.D.

Mr. Richard Marvin, Supervising Principal

Life might be compared to a series of stairs. At the foot of each stair unit is a landing. This landing must be reached prior to making any attempt at climbing the succeeding series.

At the present time with your status at graduation one might say you have been on three major stair landings. The first was the point at which you stood twelve years ago upon entering school. Considering each individual step as a grade, you reached the next landing upon completion of the sixth grade and prior to entering junior-senior high school. Then during the following years you again climbed steadily until you arrived at that landing on which you stand at graduation time.

This present achievement you should in no way consider final. There are many more such landings now within your grasp. Strive to attain this next landing. When you reach it, immediately continue your climb, for with each successive landing, new doors, new thoughts and new possibilities will be opened to you.

This stairway may surely be called, "A Stairway to the Stars". All mankind travels this way. We reach for a star; yet when it is reached, we seek out another and strive to attain it. This seems the only way to gain self-satisfaction.

As you climb, remember one thing. The only place success is ahead of work is in the dictionary!

Congratulations, and whether your climb be rapid or slow, always continue. The education you have received will be of great assistance to you as you continue ever upward.

Supervising Principal

Richard W. Marvin

Mr. Irving Hazard, Principal
Athens Area Joint High School

To the students of Athens High School.

The theme of our year book, "Trunk of Memories," is especially appealing to me this year because of the great quantity of happy memories of Athens High that I will be taking with me as I depart. I came to Athens when the Model T was still a potent factor in transportation and leave in the time of moon rockets.

The changes in educational philosophy and methods and in the members attending educational institutions have been no less astounding. Athens Area has been fortunate in the people that have been willing to make sacrifices to serve on the School Board. They have brought the school along from the time when the present shop was the gymnasium, the auditorium would not hold a 9 x 12 rug and the school had no athletic field of its own, to the present time when a new, adequate and beautiful school is only months away. These are outward symbols of an equally great transformation in the educational program offered to the boys and girls of the area.

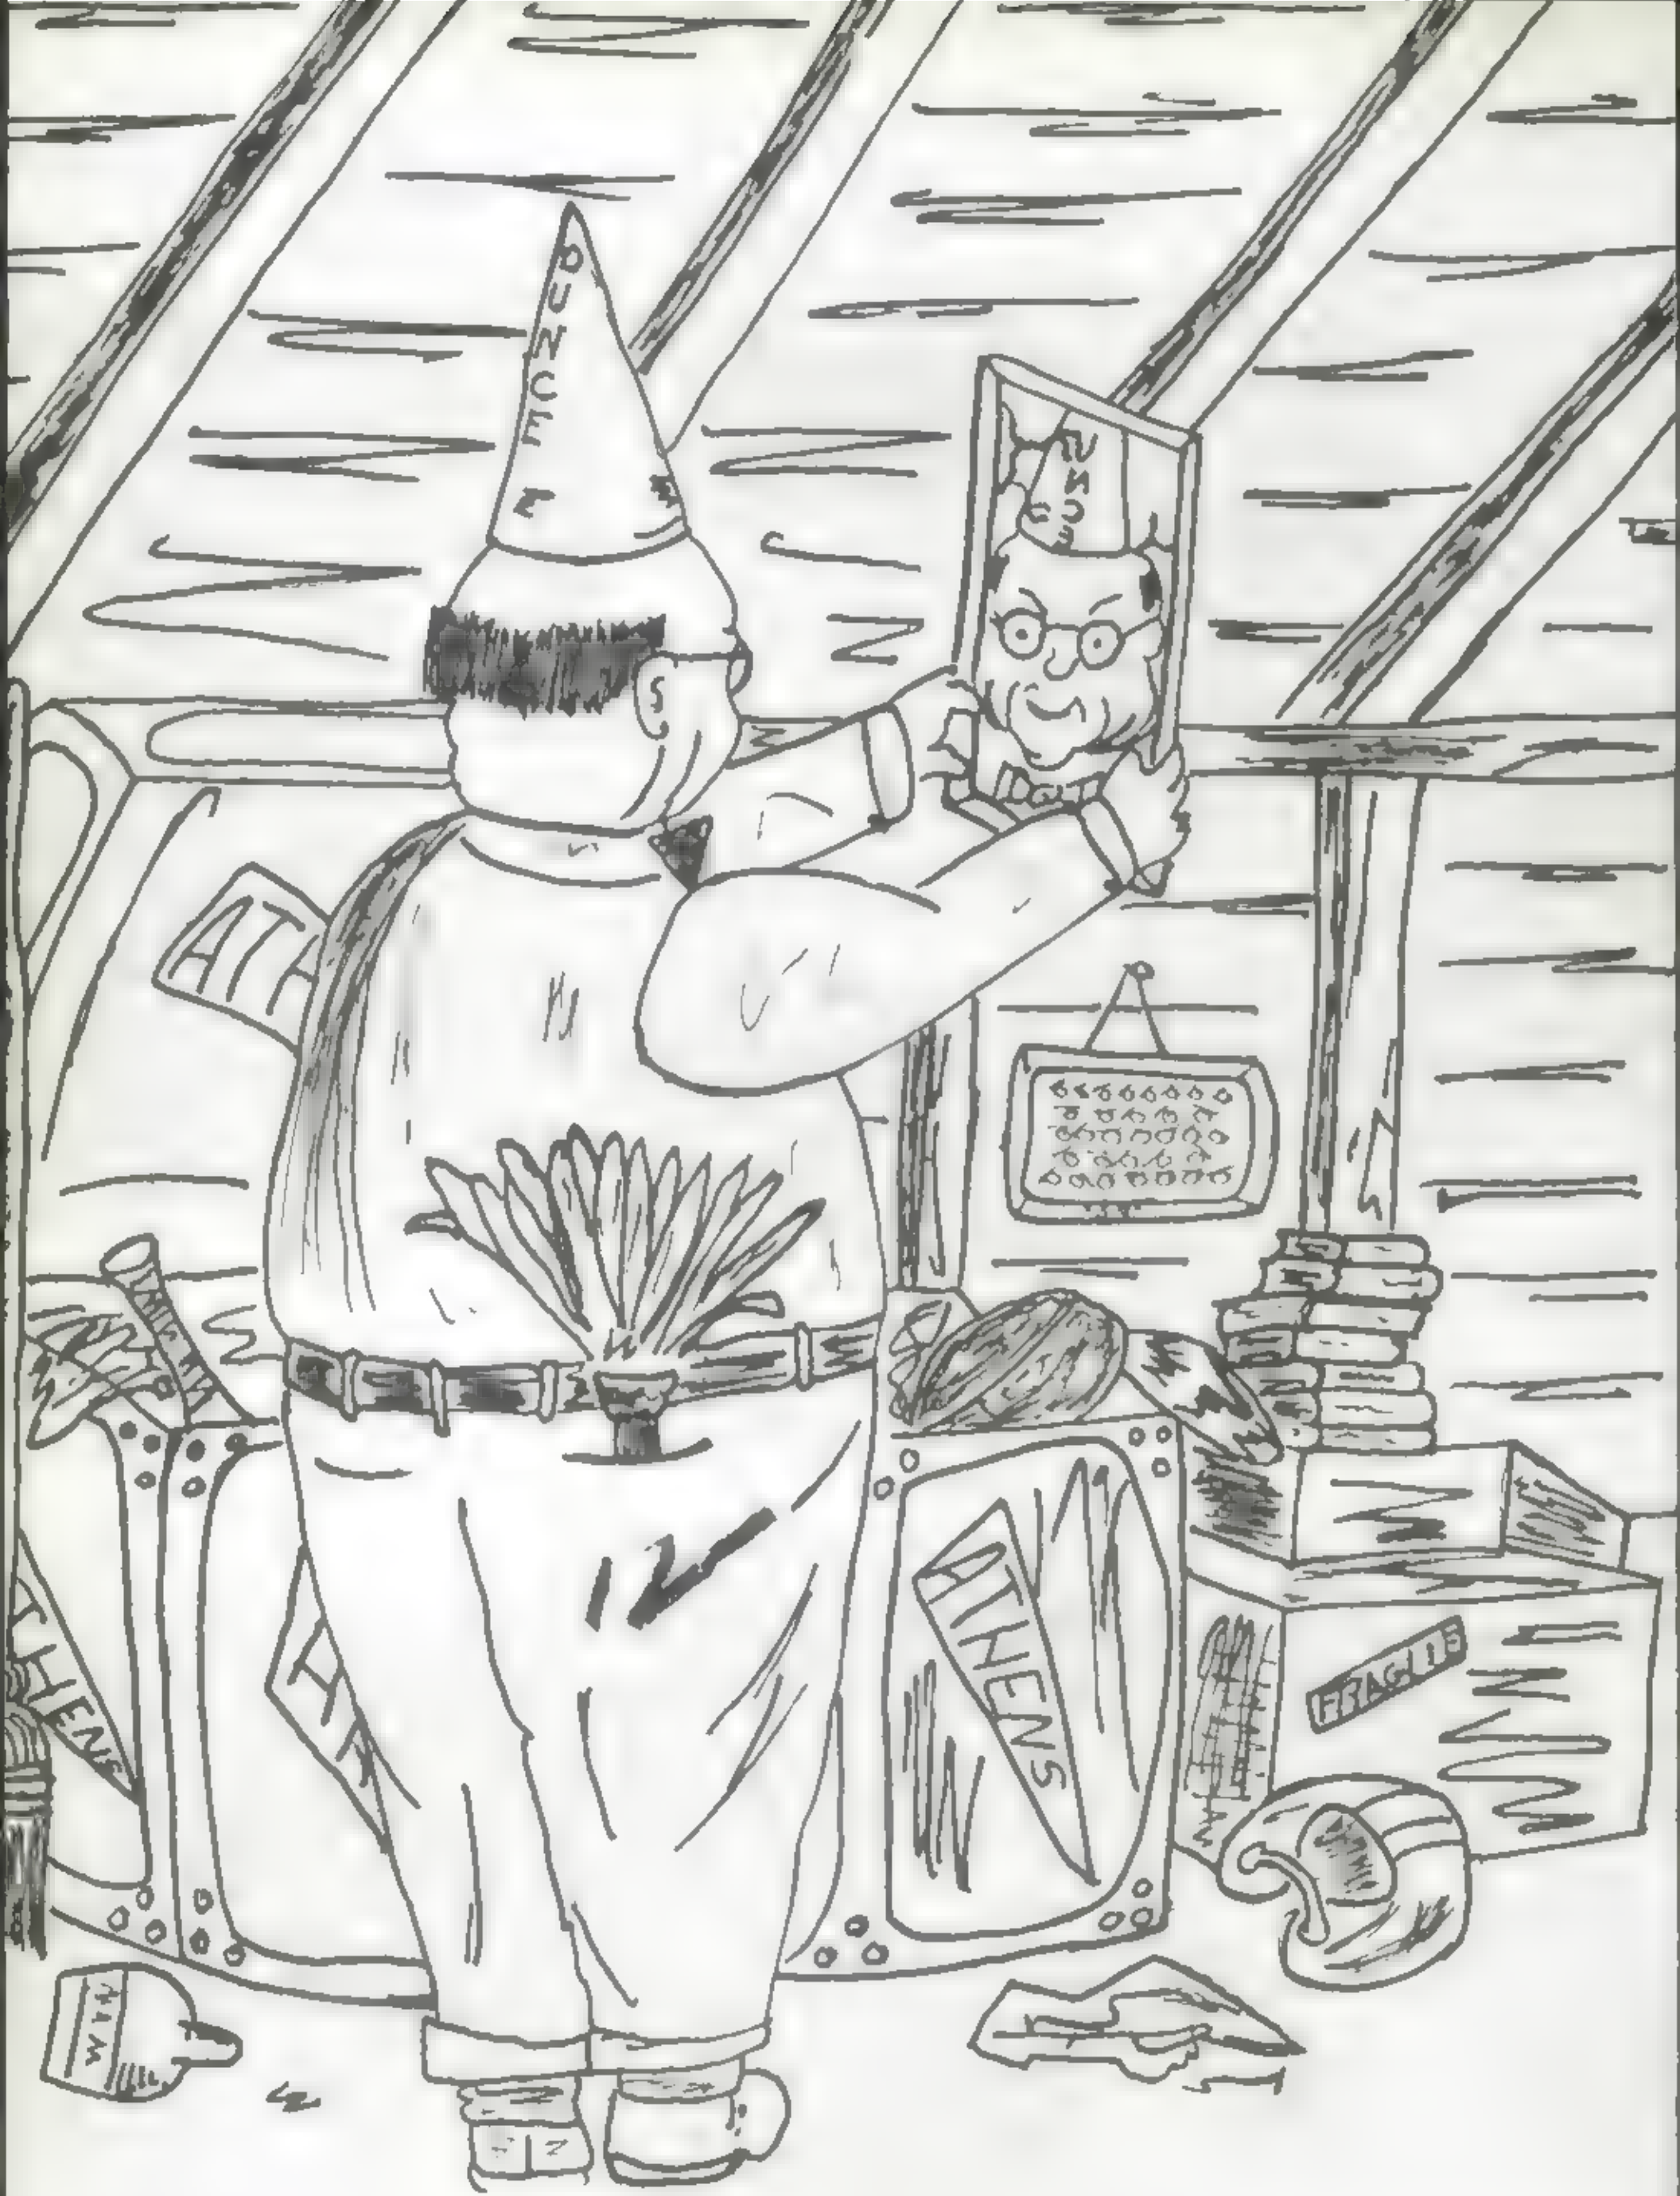

I am happy to have had a share with many others in helping to promote this progress. My association with students, teachers and other citizens has given me a store of pleasant memories that I shall be very happy to take with me as I bow to the inevitability of the march of time and retire from active duty.

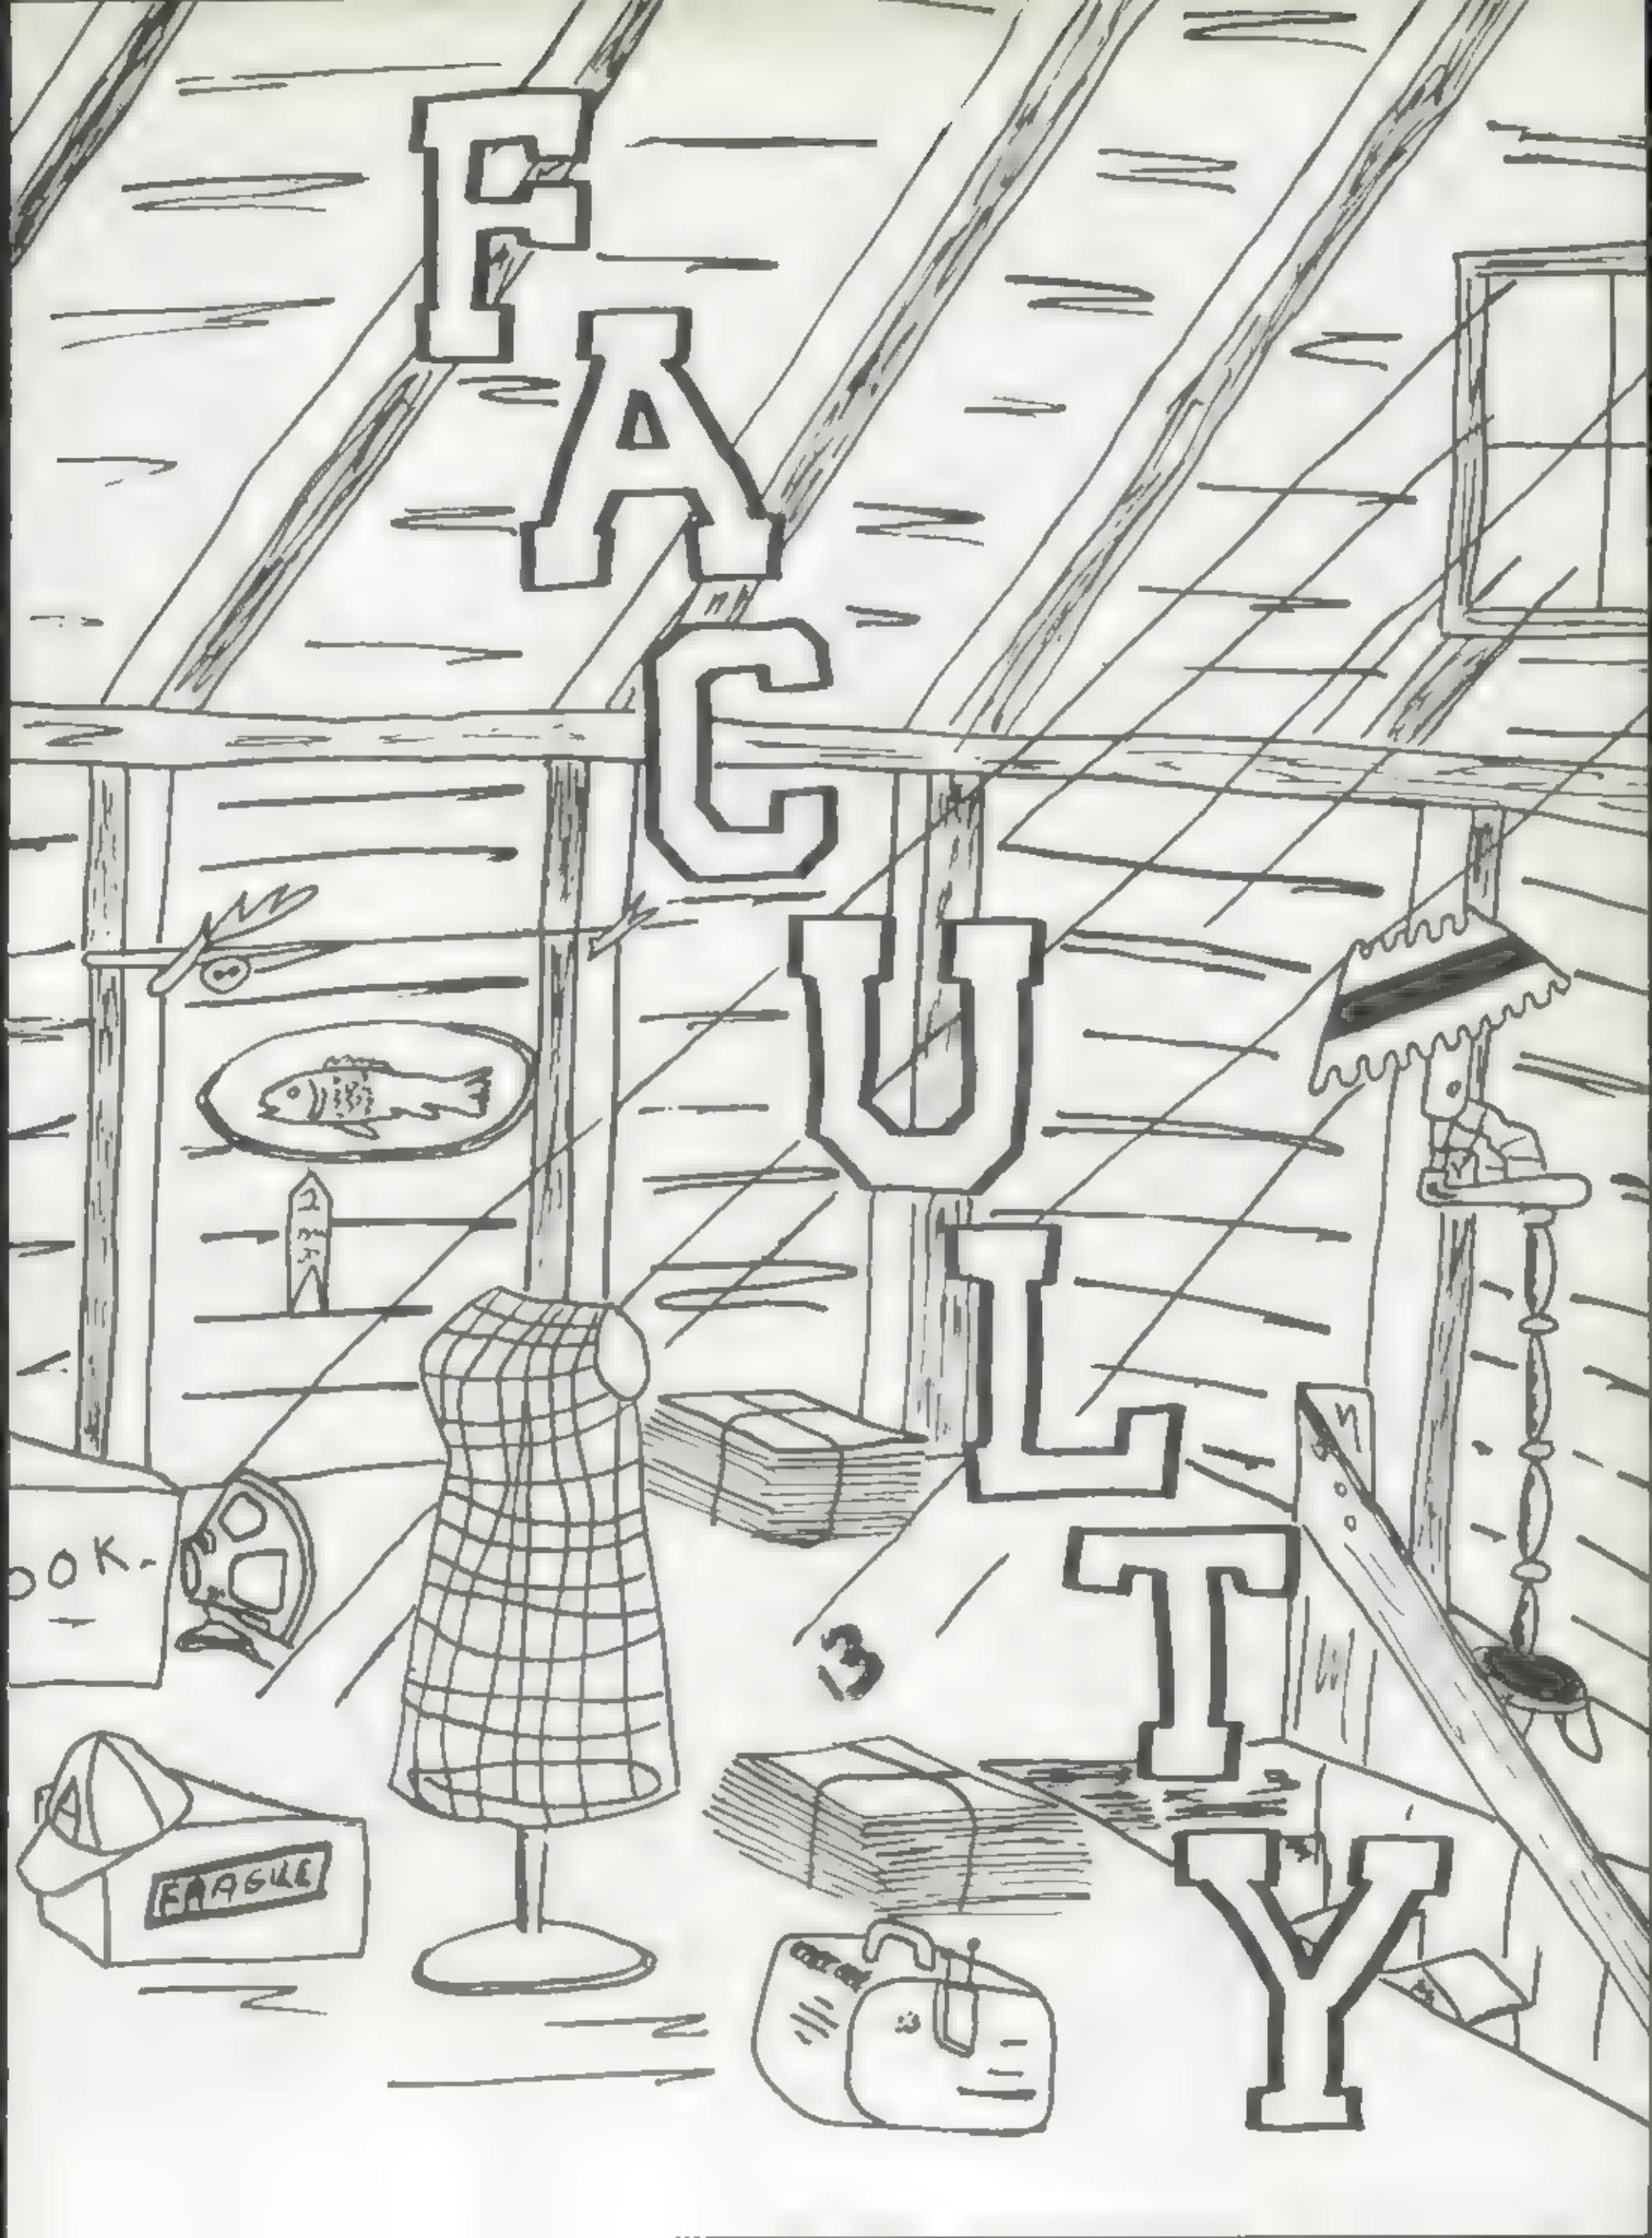

Sincerely,

Irving W. Hazard

CLASS HISTORY

As we, the members of the class of '59, look through our trunk of memories, we have many moments to recall ... In seventh grade we experienced our first exciting high school days. We remember our parties, hayrides, and dances of junior high ... all never to be forgotten. As sophomores we planned our first big dance, the Hawaiian Hop, and accepted our new responsibilities in senior high student government. Then before we realized it, we were Juniors. Ah yes ... no one will forget our junior year ... taking part in the glorious minstrel, Happy Days ... organizing our junior prom, Crystal Paradise ... then in the snow of February casting our first play, SPRING GREEN. These memories we will cherish always. After an eventful junior year, Father Time once again turned his mighty arm and ushered us into our final year. Senior pictures ... planning the ATHENIAN and dreams of graduation began our last year. The annual senior play, JUNIOR MISS, proved to be another success for the class of '59 ... In our senior year, as in all other years, our sports events can never be set aside. All through the years our class achieved fame and glory in all they undertook in the sports world. Our class spirit, hand in hand with our school spirit, spurred our teams on to victory after victory. Our enjoyment throughout all our years was made possible through our wonderful faculty advisors and our understanding principal, Mr. Hazard.

Finally the long awaited days of Baccalaureate and Commencement arrived, both were mixed with joy and sorrow for all ... Now as the class of '59, we have staged our last play ... planned our last dance and cheered our teams on for the last time ... to all of this we say Farewell and ... Fond Memories!!!

JUNIOR CLASS

Front row: G. Slater, Secretary, and J. Firestine, President. Back row: M. Watkins, Vice President, and E. North, Treasurer.

To most students, the Junior year at A. H. S. is one of the busiest and most exciting years in school. Although it is considered by some to be the hardest year in high school, it is full of activities and projects. Boys who participate in sports are advanced to the varsity squads, while the girls can join the G. A. C. for the first time. Along with more activity in sports, the juniors have a bigger interest in student government than ever before. This is primarily because a member of the Junior Class is chosen by his school-mates to be vice-president of the Student Council. This year Bruce Avery was elected vice-president. During the holidays, the class rings arrived and the Junior-Senior Prom was held. "Mistletoe Mischief," the Prom's theme, was carried out very effectively in the I-R Employees' Clubhouse. After the Prom, all was seemingly quiet until the Junior Play. But to a member of the cast it was a mad dash to learn lines. The Juniors worked hard on the play, "A Broom for the Bride". When June finally came, every Junior was eager for vacation. But with vacation comes the end of all the courses and the fun which make the Junior year an all-important rung in the ladder of high school.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

At last! You've reached your Sophomore year. A whole new world opened up to you as you reach your first year in Senior High. You help your school in the most important school election of all; electing a vice president who will be next year's high school president. Now you can represent your class on the Senior High Student Council. You choose Sophomore class officers who, this year are: President, Robert Donahue, Vice President, Vine Crandall, Secretary, Bonnie Rumpff, and Treasurer, Nancy Cady.

In high school you may play Varsity football or become a varsity cheerleader or majorette, or represent your class in the Queen's Court. Many new clubs are now open to you. If you are musically inclined, you may be a member of the Senior High Mixed Chorus. As a Sophomore, you may go to Varsity pep rallies and Senior High assemblies.

One of the most important jobs of a Sophomore is choosing your courses for senior high. To do this you must have a general idea of your plans in the future.

As a Sophomore this year, you have the assurance that your graduation will take place in the new Athens High School, a dream that Sophomore classes for many years have wished might be.

NINTH GRADE

By the time students reach the ninth grade, they are settled in the general routine of high school. The problems of finding their classrooms and learning the teachers names are minor ones for those who attended seventh and eighth grade here, but for those coming in from rural schools it is a new experience. They not only have to cope with the problem of finding their classes and learning who their teachers are but they have to learn to find their way about the school.

About this time extra-curricular activities begin. One student will be elected president of the Junior High Student Council. Boys have their first chance to try out for sports. Girls become J. V. Cheerleaders.

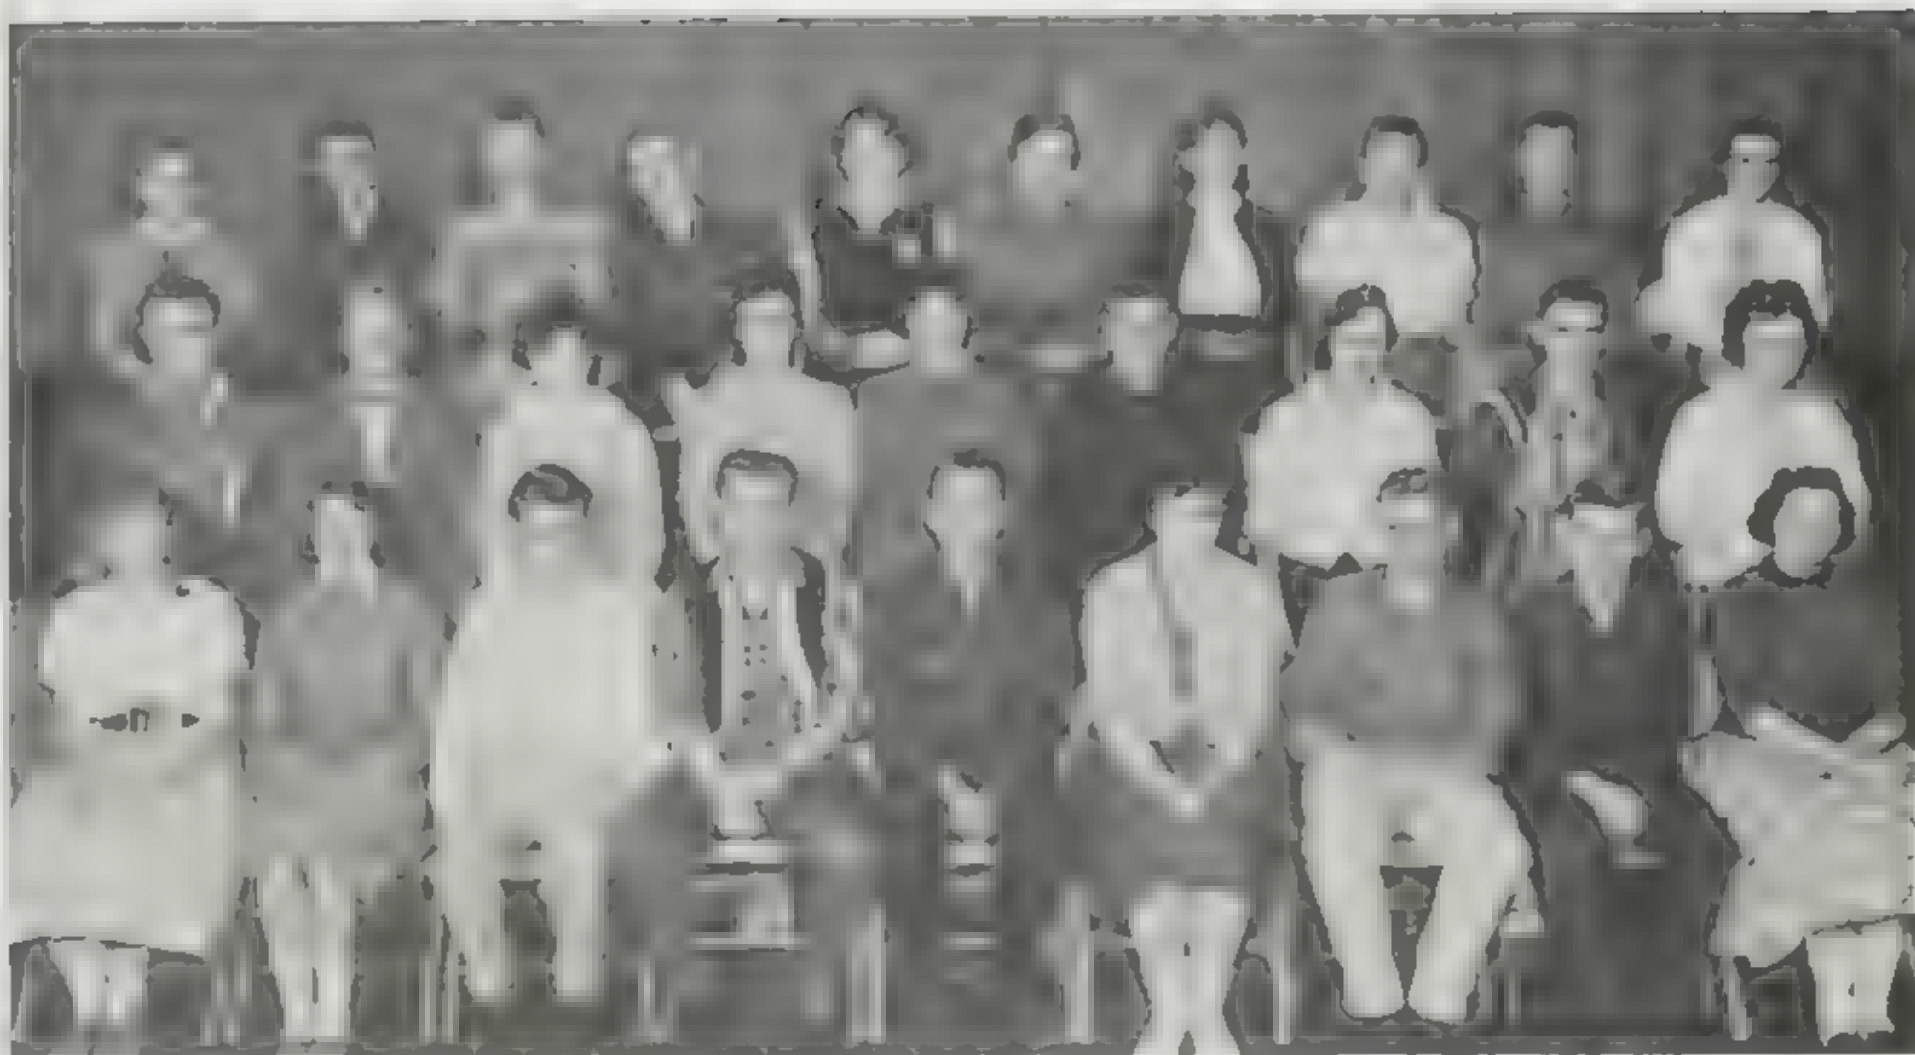

The students are given the opportunity of taking a wider variety of courses. Guidance classes also start now, which help the student make up his mind what course to study and what he wants to do after he graduates.

EIGHTH GRADE

As we look back to eighth grade, we see ourselves settled into the routine of the high school. By now the passing of classes and the different teachers were no longer a novelty. Our class didn't seem so large this year and to our surprise we discovered we knew many others outside of our own class. We were ready to settle down for more serious study. Our courses were becoming more advanced and detailed; science was added to our curriculum. All our subjects began to take on a sharper meaning.

This year we were really a part of Athens High School. The customs of our Alma Mater were no longer new and strange. We were ready to take part in those traditions we could and were looking forward eagerly to high school. Every activity of the high school was closely observed and as many as possible were imitated. Oh, how hard we tried to be a part of things.

Still one of the best parts of eighth grade was simply belonging. It was wonderful not to be a wondering new comer any longer but to be ready to give our aid to someone else, someone like we had been last year.

As we look even farther back we remember the first year we came to the high school. The first few days were wonderful and rather terrifying. Instead of the one room and one teacher that we were used to, we had a home room and then we had to pass classes to get to the other rooms. We found that we had many teachers and at first it was hard trying to remember all their names. (But then it must be even worse for the teachers). There were always a few of us who could never seem to get into the right room. It's a good thing the rooms were marked or there would have probably been a lot more who got lost.

Another thing you notice when you get in high school is the fact that you are now a member of the school and a part of the school spirit. When you go to the games or school activities there is a new feeling. You're a part of the spirit and you cheer just a little bit harder than you did before.

You now look forward to the next five years with enthusiasm. Each year there are more things to do and more activities to take part in. Of course, you can't forget that the studying becomes a little harder each year, also. However, you now await the next year, wondering what will happen.

Student government plays a very important role in school life. The largest senior high governing body at Athens High School is the Senior High Student Council. The council consisting of the president, the vice-president, and representatives from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes, is under the able sponsorship of Dr. Bresee.

The chief purpose of the organization is to help keep the school running smoothly. The council is able to suggest improvements in the high school to the faculty and Mr. Hazard. Many different projects are undertaken by the group. For three years the school, under the direction of the council, has sponsored a child in Greece. All money used for this purpose is contributed voluntarily by the students through the Penny Parades. This year the council also conducted a Nickel Parade. This was for the benefit of the rebuilding of the high school at Clinton, Tennessee. Also this year the organization went to Sayre to conduct the formal installation of their council.

One of the main projects before the council was to try to reach a better attitude towards scholarship in Athens High School. The National Honor Society was founded and the honor roll was divided into High Honors and Second Honors in the hope of promoting scholarship. Another important activity of the council is that of conducting assembly periods in which proposals brought before the council, are opened for general discussion among the students.

Each activity period the Junior High School Student Council can be found hard at work on the various problems which arise during the course of a normal school year.

Its purpose is to promote citizenship, raise moral standards, and to improve the relationship between the administration, faculty, and the students themselves.

The council this year is under the direction of their capable officers, who for this year are: president - Calvin Reeves, vice-president - Nancy Schoonover, secretary-treasurer - Patricia Hennessy.

The vice-president is an eighth grader who automatically succeeds to the presidency in his freshman year. All the officers are chosen from the junior high body at large, while each homeroom chooses its own representative. To be eligible, a student must possess at least a three average for the previous school year.

The council had several projects throughout the year, among them was the solutions of congestion in the junior high hall; the ordering of membership pins for each representative; and the formulating of plans for the awarding of a special award to an outstanding freshman.

The Council is under the guidance of Mr. Knouse. It is hoped that the body will continue to grow and that the students learn to take advantage of its facilities and benefits.

Second row: J. McDonald, P. Dixon, D. Harsknecht, T. Weaver, R. Marvin, D. Beers, D. Kishbaugh, D. Balling, J. Fulda.
Third row: T. Sullivan, C. Krouse, P. Hartwick, W. Hasenfus, N. Wacker, J. Cole, J. Kudzinski, A. Jordan, A. Carlin.

If, by any chance, you happen to walk by the physics lab every activity period and notice some unusual goings on don't be alarmed, for here huddled in this small room, are the greatest scientific minds at A.H.S. Behind closed doors, the members of the Science Club perform experiments with the phenomena of physics, chemistry and biology.

The Science Club, fast becoming the most popular club at Athens High, meets every activity period in the physics lab and every Wednesday night from 7 - 9. Mr. Seelye, club advisor, along with the club officers, Thomas Powers - President; Wayne Miller - Vice-president; Helen Gallup - Secretary; Stanley Robinson - Treasurer, comes to all meetings to help keep the members active.

The experiments that the members are working on now are mostly the prelude to larger things yet to come. Each member of the Science Club is required to have some sort of project to exhibit at the local Science Fair. If the project is good enough, it will go on to the Science Fair at Bucknell or the one at Penn State.

Stan Robinson is busily running around the room trying to gather apparatus for a sonar outfit which he is building for the coming Science Fair. Pete Hartwick is building a cloud chamber which he expects to exhibit. We wish great success to all the members of the science club in the coming Science Fairs, and we hope the club will continue to grow and gain interested members in the scientific field.

If a stranger were to walk in room 216B during an activity period, he would undoubtedly be surprised. It is very probable that anything but our usual English would reach his ears, for it is here that our Language Club meets.

Formed this year, the Language Club is open to any student studying a foreign language. Thus it is one of the few clubs that is open to freshmen. The club is sponsored by Mr. Nearhoof, our French teacher.

The aim of the club is to become acquainted with different civilizations through languages, customs, and culture. Each project is undertaken with this in mind. As the club is composed of Latin and French students, one of the first programs was to show the close relationship of these two languages. A standing project of the club is that of learning to speak and read a little Spanish. As Mr. Nearhoof is also qualified to teach Spanish, he instructs the group during the club period. Many discussions and reports about different languages, customs, and countries are conducted. Several films and slides have been presented for the group. Records are obtained and played in Russian, French, and many other tongues. Following any activity is a thorough discussion. Even games are played in different languages. The Language Club is an excellent example of combining learning with enjoyment.

Seated: L. Wiles, Treasurer. Standing: E. Rosenberger, President; F. Shores, Vice President; M. Price, Secretary.

The Library Club is one of the most useful and helpful organizations. There are approximately twenty members under the capable direction and supervision of Mrs. Pruyne, the librarian of the high school library. These students devote their study halls to work in the library.

To qualify for membership in the club, the student must like and be interested in the different phases of library work. Few people realize the amount of work in running a library. The students help Mrs. Pruyne mend books, prepare the books for circulation, and arrange the bulletin board display; they also do other jobs too numerous to mention.

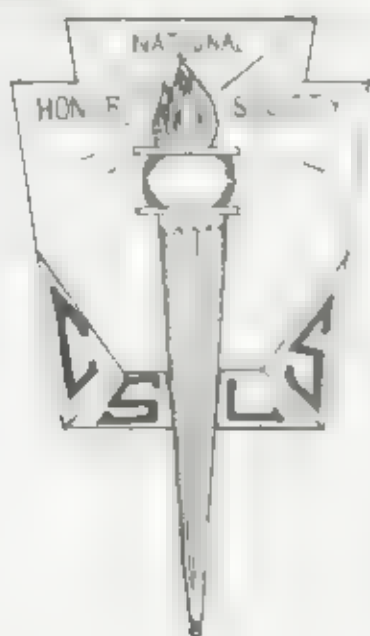

As in other clubs the students hold meetings, elect officers and plan field trips. These field trips are taken in Athens and other areas surrounding Athens. These trips are very educational, and the members are able to witness the methods used in other libraries; consequently, they can improve the high school library with many of the ideas they receive along with their own.

The Library Club members supply their service to Mrs. Pruyne, so that she is free to help others.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

This year through the efforts of the Senior High Student Council, Athens requested and was granted membership in the National Honor Society. A constitution, drawn up by members of the Student Council and Mr. Hazard, was submitted to the national officials of the National Honor Society and was approved by them. Thus Athens became a member.

The requirements for membership into our chapter are grades of an honor roll average and high standards of service, leadership, and character.

The object of the chapter is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to encourage the students to give freely of their services, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage high standards of character among the students of Athens High.

Founded three years ago, our chapter of the Future Teachers of America is one of the more recently organized clubs at Athens High School. This year the last of the charter members will graduate. The club is named in honor of our principal, Mr. Hazard, who was instrumental in the origin of the chapter, and is nationally affiliated as the I.W. Hazard Club of the Future Teachers of America.

The club is open to anyone in the sophomore, junior, and senior classes who may be considering teaching as his career. The activities of the group are wide and varied. A standing project is that of offering the service of story-telling for the "Story Hour" in the town library. Other members serve as student librarians in school. Other activities include observation of classes, actual management of classes, trips to different colleges, and various panel discussions.

The focal point of the club's activities is to promote teaching as a career. Through the club capable candidates are identified, encouraged, and motivated to choose appropriate fields of study. Information is secured on the many opportunities in education today and on the special characteristics a teacher should possess. The national organization provides valuable aid and information concerning scholarships and government loans. Through the club an understanding of the history and development of our educational system and an appreciation of the contributions that have been made to our democratic free society are offered to the members. Some activities of the chapter are planned to help discover what successful teaching actually entails. Through many of the same activities the members develop an awareness of the privileges and responsibilities of the teaching profession. Here it is also shown that teaching is a profession that serves - serves the school, the community, and the nation.

The Future Nurses of America is one of our school's most progressive clubs. This club is composed of senior high girls who are planning to make nursing their career. This year under the capable supervision of their sponsor, Miss Hine, the girls planned and took trips to various hospitals. These trips to the various hospitals throughout the state showed the girls how hospitals are organized and managed. During the year these girls aid Miss Hine with polio shots and other clinics held at school. Meetings are held twice a month and sometimes guest speakers come to advise and talk about nursing. The National Future Nurses of America pin is worn by all members of the club. Officers for this year are - President - Joan Northrup; Vice President - Nancy Johnson; Secretary - Sharon Murray; Treasurer - Thelma Cotton.

The Athens F.F.A. has been very active during the past year. Five calves raised by local members were exhibited at various shows winning many ribbons. Among these, Cole's calf won 2 blue ribbons, 2 Grand Champion ribbons, 1 red ribbon and 1 white ribbon; Mosier's calf won 1 blue ribbon, 2 red ribbons and 1 white ribbon; Simons's calf won 1 Grand Champion ribbon, 1 red ribbon, and 1 white ribbon; Miner's calf won 1 Grand Champion, 3 blue ribbons and 1 red ribbon; Eugene Rockwell, a member of the Athens F.F.A. and a graduate of Athens won the Keystone Farmer degree along with a free trip to Penn State. His calf won

1 red ribbon, 1 white ribbon and 1 blue ribbon. There were also several ribbons for showing. Mr. Marshall Van Scoten, the vocational agriculture teacher, is the sponsor of the Athens F.F.A. which is affiliated with the National and State Organizations.

F. H. A.

The Athens chapter of the Future Homemakers of America has been in existence for a number of years. This year the F.H.A. is under the capable leadership of Mrs. Broughton. The members of the club wear the red and white jackets which characterize the F.H.A. The symbolic flower is the red rose. The purpose of the organization is expressed by the motto "Towards New Horizons."

The F.H.A. girls, from the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades, meet during the activities period. The President, Bonnie Lee, brings the meeting to order. Then the Secretary-Treasurer, Susie Stoll, reads the minutes of the last meeting. At the meetings, they discuss activities that they plan to do outside of the school and at later meetings. Arlene Blackley, a reporter for the Evening Times, is always busy writing down the most exciting happenings of the week. The program chairman, Ann Leahy, plan the program for future activities in F.H.A. The members carry on many worthwhile activities such as collecting money for UNESCO, an organization to help people of other countries. They plan dances, skating parties, and bake sales. At Christmas time, they sell fruit cakes, candy, and cook books. The historian, Judy Tompkins, keeps a record of the events that happen and a club scrapbook.

The P.A. Operators are a group of girls, who devote their time and effort to aid our school by operating our public address system. At first the whole P.A. System seems a very complicated device to the new operators, but with instructions and training given to them by Mr. Hazard, they soon learn what each little gadget represents.

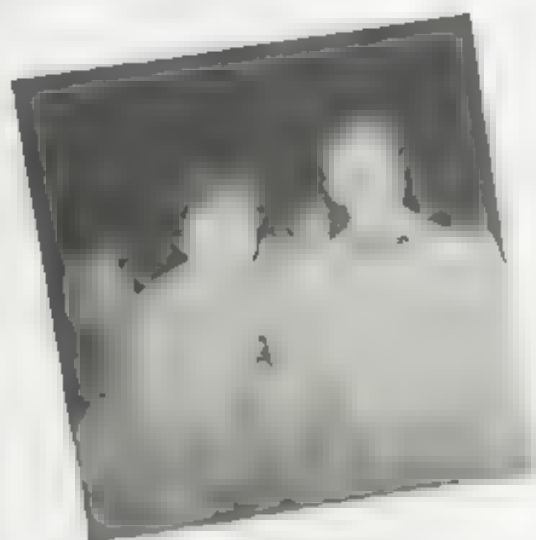

The girls who operate the public address system, are selected by Mr. Hazard from study halls through out the school. Two are chosen to be in the P.A. room each period, five days a week. Junior and Sophomore girls are usually chosen so that they can operate the system until their graduation.

Our class, the class of 1959, would like you, the P.A. operators, to know just how much we appreciate what you have done in aiding our school. If it weren't for you, no general announcements could be made throughout the school.

JR. - SR. PROM

Tuesday, December 23, found the I.R. Hall filled to capacity as couples danced on into the night. The dreamy music for the evening was provided by Don Aliger and the Starlighters. Mistletoe and evergreens transformed the hall into a land of "Mistletoe Mischief." At 10:30 the music stopped and a hush fell over the crowd as Jack Firestine, junior class president, announced that Mary Lynch was to reign as Queen of the Junior - Senior Prom. Mary and her escort, Stan Robinson, then began the last part of the prom with a waltz. Time flew by and all too soon the clock struck midnight and it was time to go. Everyone agreed it was certainly a night to be long remembered.

SENIOR HIGH

The Senior High Chorus is composed of students from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes. It is under the direction of Miss Emma Wood.

The chorus meets twice a week, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, to practice for the Christmas and Spring Concerts.

Aiding Miss Wood is the Chorus Board, composed of students selected from the chorus. These students meet with Miss Wood to discuss musical selections and programs for concerts. Members are: Sheila Lane, Linda Rumpff, Nancy Johnson, Pam Brittain, Wayne Lowery, Bruce Avery, and chairman Paul White.

On December 20, 1958, the annual Christmas Concert was held. The fifth and sixth grade

Students chosen to attend the county chorus, which was held at Sayre High School were Millie Young, Sheila Lane, Nancy Gardner, Mary Lynch, Joan Northrup, Nancy Johnson, Wayne Lowery, Stanley Robinson, Paul White, John Newbury, Jerry Cole and Paul Taylor. JUNIOR BAND

On Tuesday and Thursday mornings, first period, students from the fifth, sixth, and seventh grades can be seen entering the auditorium with musical instruments and piles of music. These students are members of the Junior High School Band. The seventh grade, most highly represented, has twenty-four members. Of these twenty-four, a few will play in the senior band next year.

Mrs. Gladys Westbrook, the director, is a new instructor at Athens High this year. Beside directing the Junior Band, she teaches instrumental music here and at other schools in the jointure.

Very little is seen of the Junior Band during most of the year, but it can be heard by anyone passing the auditorium. They practice diligently every week and their efforts are suitably rewarded. They join the Senior High Band at the Christmas and Spring Concerts and are really an added attraction.

After practicing their instruments for years and being members of the Junior Band for three years, most students are eligible for Senior High Band. This is what most hope for and is what helps make our Senior Band a creditable organization.

Director, Mrs. Gladys Westbrook.

LANCERS

This year the boys chorus not only took on new members, but also took on a new name, "The Lancers." This organization is open to all boys in senior high school who would enjoy singing together. The only qualification is that they be willing to work and spend from three to four hours a week memorizing, polishing, and reviewing the songs to be sung throughout the valley. They are directed by Dr. Clyde Bresee, who is pictured at the left.

This is the first year this organization received or asked for money from their numerous engagements. This money goes into the Student Loan Fund, which in turn can be used by any qualifying senior to further his or her education.

The Lancers have sung before approximately five thousand people. They have appeared before Athens and Sayre senior and junior high school assemblies and have been invited to sing at such places as the Iron Kettle Inn, Keystone Inn, Sayre and Athens Rotary, and at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hut located in Sayre.

Although the majority of the group are seniors and will graduate this year, we know the remainder of the boys will carry on in the future, the fine example that has been set in the past. And so to the organization we wish continued success.

J. Northrup, N. Johnson, M. Webster, S. Lane, M. Young, M. Selleck, B. Smith, N. Gardner, M. Lynch.

TRIPLE TRIO

The Athens High School Triple Trio is a group of nine girls who sing for the entertainment portion of meetings of various organizations. They are under the able direction of Miss Emma Wood. In the fall of each year, new members from the junior and senior classes are chosen to replace the ones who have graduated. This year's Triple Trio is composed of seven seniors and two juniors, plus a senior accompanist, Joan Bennett.

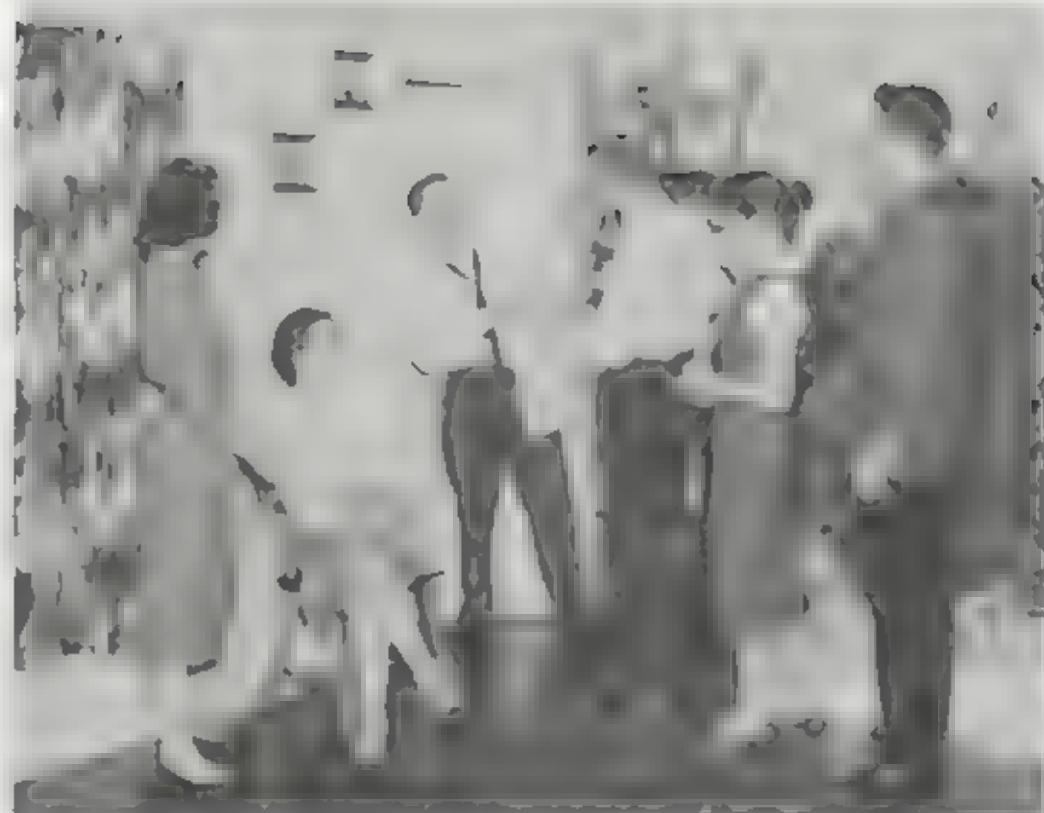

The girls meet once a week after school for practice. They sing many different types of music, from Negro spirituals like "Little David," to the light and cheery "Sleigh Ride." They appear before many different clubs, such as the Ladies' Library Club, the Lions Club, and the Daughters of the American Revolution, and before Athens and Sayre High School assemblies.

The girls sing three-part music: soprano, second soprano and alto. Mary Lynch, Nancy Gardner, and Beverly Smith sing first soprano; Millie Young, Mary Lou Selleck, and Sheila Lane sing second soprano; Marcia Webster, Nancy Johnson, and Joan Northrup sing alto.

The play selected for this year's senior play was "Junior Miss," which, with its star-studded cast of fifteen, was a great success.

The play centers around the life and problems of an average American family. The source of all the hilarious trouble is Judy Graves, Joan Northrup and her friend Fuffy Adams, Linda Rumpff. Both Judy and Fuffy are trying desperately to get into the same class with Lois Graves, Sheila Lane, who is Judy's older sister and a typical junior miss. Judy also believes implicitly in Hollywood, thus making life rather complicated for her parents, played by John Newbury and Nancy Johnson. When her long lost uncle, Peter Hartwick, turns up unexpectedly, Judy immediately labels him as a repentent criminal with the world against him and decided to help. To achieve this and also to off-set another imagined problem, Judy involves her father's boss, Wayne Miller, and his daughter, Ann Cimmons. Simultaneously Judy is maneuvering her own love life and observing her sister. Although things come close to a catastrophe, everything ends happily for everyone.

Miss Marie Bean

"I never laughed so hard in my life," was a frequent comment about the play, "A Broom for the Bride." Due to its fine cast and capable director, Miss Bean, the play was a huge success.

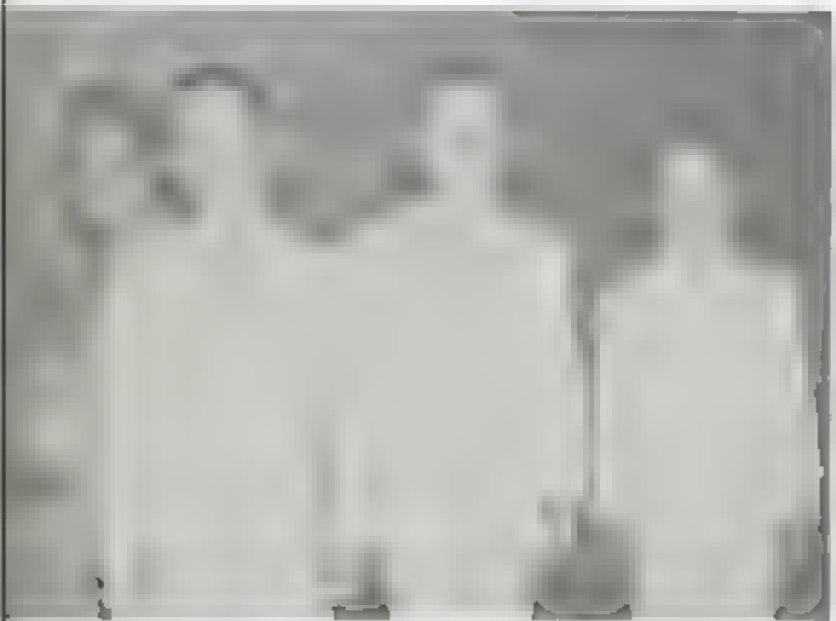

The plot revolves around the activities of socially pretentious Mrs. Grey, Bonnie Pruyne. At the present Mrs. Grey, much to the dismay of her husband, Paul Taylor, is elaborately preparing for the wedding of her daughter Linda, Beverly Davidson, to timid but socially prominent Ernest Digberry, Allan Schoonover. Matters are complicated by snobbish, domineering Mrs. Digberry, Doris Batting, and even more so by the arrival of unexpected guests, among whom is Linda's former romantic interest, Leon Roberts.

MINS

"Happy Days" was the theme for the minstrel extravaganza presented in April of 1958. Under the capable direction of Dr. Clyde Bresee assisted by Mrs. Esther Durgin, the show was a huge success. Many song and dance numbers and novelty acts were presented by members of the sophomore, junior and senior classes, plus a few younger performers.

The setting for the first portion of the show was an old southern mansion. In front of the mansion songs were sung in minstrel style by the mixed chorus. Several dance routines were presented: the waltz, the tulip dance, and a blues number. Of course there were the traditional endmen with their funny songs and stories.

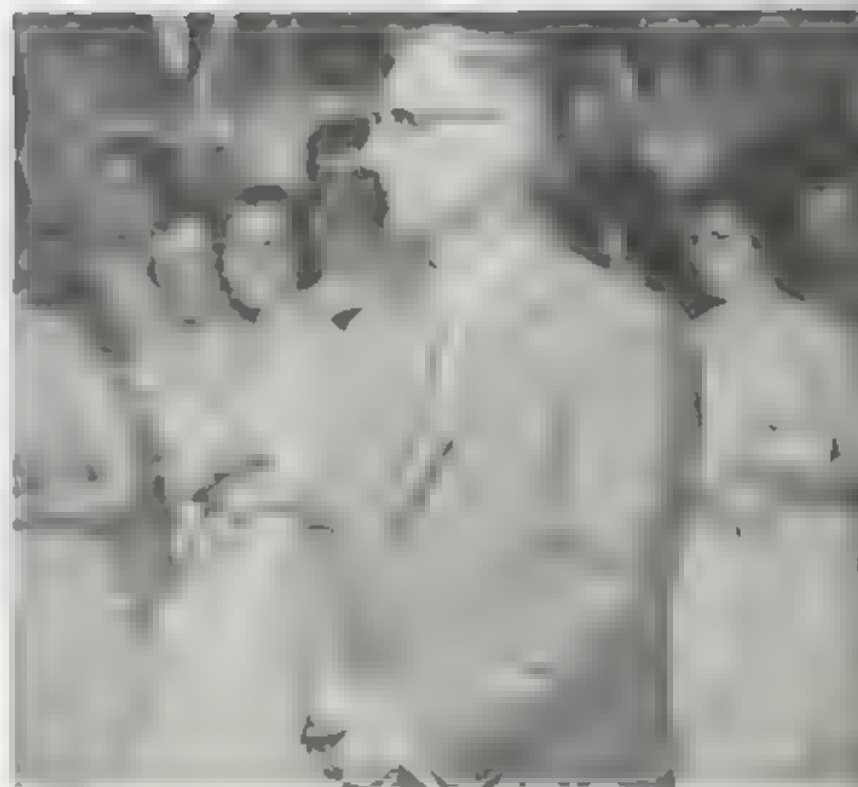

TREL

The show was climaxed by the appearance of the queen, Jan Griswold, and her court, members of the senior class.

One matinee for the junior high students and two evening performances were given. They played to a full house both evenings. All of the profits were the basis for a student loan fund.

We wish to acknowledge great appreciation to Mrs. Durgin and Dr. Bresee, without whose help such a production would not have been possible. They gave freely of their time and energy for something very worthwhile.

One of our dramatic groups at Athens High School is the Young Players. The group was formed just three years ago. It originated as an impromptu group of sophomores with one thing in common, an interest in dramatics.

The Young Players now consists of students who are interested in the theatre and who wish to learn more about show business in general. Membership is now open to anyone in grades nine through twelve inclusive, who may be interested in belonging to such a group. The club's officers for this year are Jennifer Moore, President; Sue Powers, Secretary; Anne Lucy, Treasurer.

Standing: N. Johnson, C. Harris, J. Cain, W. Miller, J. Newbury, P. Brattain, Seated: P. Hartwick, L. Rumoff, S. Lane, J. Northrup, C. Collins, A. Cimmons, P. White.

Membership in the National Thespian Society is considered a very great honor by anyone interested in dramatics. Our chapter, troupe 482, was chartered at Athens High School in 1953. The club is sponsored by Mrs. Volechenisky.

The National Thespian Society is a non-secret, non-social honorary organization. Membership in the society must be earned. Meritorious participation in the field of dramatic arts is the basis for membership. A point system is used to simplify matters. Membership is earned most readily by participation in the Junior or Senior Play, although it may be gained after working in many assemblies. The aim of all Thespians may be summed up in their motto - "Act well your part; there all honor lies."

WELL S.S!
BOOM! BAH!

Mr. John Childs is a native Athenian, graduating in 1931 from A. H. S., where he was active in high school athletics. After graduation from high school, he entered East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, where he received his bachelor of science degree. Somewhat later he received his M.S. from Penn State. He spent three years in the service during World War II as physical training officer.

In 1946 Mr. Childs came to Athens to take over the job of football, baseball, and basketball coach. However, after four years he resigned coaching basketball and baseball to devote most of his time to his favorite sport, football. It is through this sport that he is probably best known to the people of Athens. As football coach he has compiled a record of sixty-five wins, thirty-one losses, and eight ties which is an enviable record for not only himself but also for the school.

In 1950 he started a track program at Athens and has lost only four dual meets during his years as coach, losing one to Owego, two to Waverly, and one to Williamsport. In 1958 he resigned as coach of all sports.

In his spare time Mr. Childs enjoys hunting, fishing, and wood-working. His favorite hobby is raising show dogs. Recently his dogs won blue ribbons in Madison Square Garden, proving that his dogs are champions also. The unusual feature about the dogs is that they are named after positions on various athletic teams and various track events.

In gratitude for all he has done and meant at Athens High we dedicate the sports section of the 1959 Athenian to "Coach" Childs.

PIGSKIN CHASERS

The Pigskin Chasers is the oldest and most honored organization in Athens High School. Only those who have earned the letter "A" by acquiring the required number of quarters, periods, innings, or by being elected to the cheerleading squad, are eligible.

The club is sponsored by Coach John Childs, who helps direct and guide the meetings and the raising of money for such things as senior sweaters and trophies. This money is raised by the sponsoring of dances, by bake sales, held by the cheerleaders, and by the selling of the Athens vs. Waverly program booklet. This includes pictures of both teams and bands, and also highlights of the games throughout the year.

The purpose of the club is to aid in the promotion of better, cleaner, and more enjoyable athletics, and to help develop good character, leadership, and democratic qualities through the direct participation in the club projects.

The club officers in 1958-59 were: President, Wayne Lowery; Vice President, Bill Perry; Secretary, Jim Felt; Treasurer, Mary Lynch; Sergeant of Arms, Jack Firestine.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Co-captain - Ann Simmons

The Varsity Cheerleaders are an important organization at Athens High School. The squad, composed of seven regular members and one substitute, cheers at every football and basketball game. They also conduct pep rallies before important games - Sayre and Waverly - which raise the school spirit.

This year the squad, led by the two senior co-captains, Mary Lynch and Ann Simmons, have really been an asset to our sports program.

Co-captain - Mary Lynch

Our peppy bunch of J. V. Cheerleaders is composed of girls from the eighth and ninth grades. This year their attractive uniforms consist of princess style jumpers made of dark blue corduroy, complimented with white baby-doll sleeve blouses.

Beside cheering for basketball and football games, the J. V.'s have many other duties. They aid our Varsity Cheerleaders in preparing posters, in planning pep rallies and in sponsoring dances. They also help sell candy and aid in other money raising projects.

These girls show true sportsmanship in victory and defeat. We are proud to have these girls represent our school.

One of the most active clubs in senior high school is the Girls' Athletic Club, G. A. C., as it is better known, is composed of junior and senior girls interested in sports. This organization meets every activity period for either a business meeting or a sports activity. Under the capable leadership of Mrs. Peggy Childs, the girls plan various outside activities. This year the outside activities have included bowling, skating, tobogganing, and swimming.

The members of the G. A. C. play such sports as basketball, hockey, baseball, and volleyball. G. A. C. is organized on the basis of a point system. Each girl wishing to earn a G. A. C. medal or letter must earn at least 500 points during the year. These points are given on the basis of how many hours a girl has participated in a certain sport. The letter awards are reserved for juniors, while the medals are given to the seniors. One of the outstanding activities of G. A. C. is the playday the Athens girls hold for G. A. C. members of other schools.

We are certainly proud of this fine organization.

At the start of each activity period one may hear the words, "Sign me out to the Wrestling Club, will ya'?" This is the beginning of a busy forty-five minutes in the gymnasium.

Although A. H. S. cannot enter into interscholastic wrestling - due to insufficient facilities for both basketball and wrestling at the same time - wrestling is still quite popular. In the new school, which will be ready in a few years, wrestling will probably become one of our seasonal sports.

During meetings of the Wrestling Club, Coach Childs, the club advisor, is on hand to supervise the matches. Outside of a few sore muscles and bumped heads, the Wrestling Club has had a very satisfying year.

Many of the younger members are looking forward to the time when they may be competing with wrestlers from other schools. Best of luck to these future representatives of Athens High School.

WRESTLING CLUB

RIFLE CLUB

Prone: Ronald Collear, Pat Sumoski, Chergll Clark, Dale Jordan. Off-hand: Bert Irons, J. Robinson, J. Alger, R. Olsen.

The Rifle Club has had a very active schedule this year. It meets every activity period with Mr. Thomas Maginsky, as well as two nights a week after school. At these after school meetings, the members participate in target shooting at the Ingersoll Rand Club House. The club also went on a fox hunt, and many who participated expressed a desire for another such hunt.

A rifle team has been formed from the eight highest scorers in the club. The team is expected to compete with other such teams from this area.

This year there are twenty-two members. They elected the following as officers: John Alger, president; Don Dunn, vice-president; Bert Irons, treasurer; and Dale Jordan, secretary.

Each member must know the six rules concerning the safety of firearms. He must also be approved by an adult before he may participate in the activities of the club.

GRIDIRON CLUB

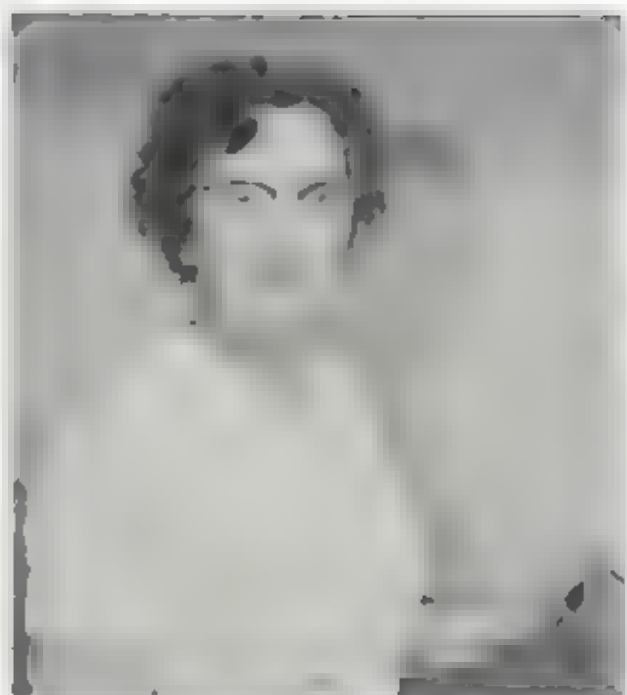

The Gridiron Club, which is under the sponsorship of Mr. James Whitmer, meets every activity period in room 109. This club is composed of approximately thirty-five members of the junior varsity football team. During their meetings Mr. Whitmer, also the J. V. coach, gives the members pointers on how to play their respective positions. These pointers undoubtedly help the players when they are on the field.

The club has elected officers who lead the club in planning such activities as the dance they hold in the spring. These officers are: Butch Havens, president; Bill Cron, vice-president; Gary Hasenfus, treasurer; and Ed Jones, secretary. The profits of this dance are to be used in purchasing new equipment for the J. V. football team.

The Gridiron Club has had a very successful year and many of the members are looking forward to next fall when they will again be representing A. H. S. on the gridiron. Some of these members will still remain on the junior varsity squad, but many will have conquered another goal in life: that of being moved up to the varsity.

CAFETERIA STAFF

The cafeteria is one of the most important systems functioning in our school. Few people realize how difficult the job of running a cafeteria is. The meals must be planned in advance and they must be prepared daily.

This year our school cafeteria is under the capable supervision of Mrs. Brown, formerly of Laceyville, Pennsylvania. Mrs. Brown supervised a cafeteria in a branch of the Wyalusing Valley Jointure before coming to Athens. She is assisted in the cafeteria by Mrs. Pearl Parke, Mrs. Maxine Salsmun, and students who work there during the lunch hours.

The cafeteria, during the lunch hour each day, serves on an average of two hundred eighty students. These students are given the most nutritious meals possible for a quarter. Each student is responsible for the cleaning up of his tray when he has finished eating.

This year for the first time a double line was formed to help speed up the serving of the meals and also to help relieve congestion. The students are able to obtain second helpings of food at no extra charge.

We would like to extend our appreciation to the cafeteria workers who have done their best to please the students and faculty members who eat there.

Mr. Thomas Holbert

One of the jobs around Athens High School that receives little appreciation from the majority of the student body is that essential duty of maintaining our building and grounds. This is one of the most important jobs around the school - certainly one that directly affects our comfort and enjoyment of our school life. Few people realize the long hours that form the basis for a neat and pleasant school.

Our custodial staff consists of the head custodian, Mr. Charles Thorpe, and assistants, Mrs. Ina Dildine, Mr. Thomas Holbert, and Mr. Floyd Richards. We would like to express at this time to these people our appreciation for a job that is very well done.
